

UNIT-02

- Personal Responsibility Competencies (PRC) – Self-determination – Self regulation – Well-being (PERMA) – Volunteerism – Social Responsibility Competencies (SRC) – Contributing to community & environment– Solving problems peacefully, Valuing diversity – Building relationships – Non-Governmental Organizations (NGO) – functions – Types – Approaches – Non-Profit Organizations (NPO) – Corporate Social Responsibility – Evolution - Benefits – Types – Legal Mandate

Personal Responsibility Competencies (PRC)

- Personal responsibility refers to an individual's ability to take ownership of their actions, behaviors, and well-being.

Key competencies include:

- Self-determination – The ability to make independent choices and set personal goals, leading to autonomy and motivation.
- Self-regulation – Managing emotions, behaviors, and actions effectively to achieve personal and professional success.
- Well-being (PERMA Model) – A framework for psychological well-being, including:
 - P – Positive emotions
 - E – Engagement
 - R – Relationships
 - M – Meaning
 - A – Accomplishment
- Volunteerism – Actively participating in community service, contributing skills and time to help others.

Social Responsibility Competencies (SRC)

- Social responsibility emphasizes ethical behavior and community involvement. Key competency:
- Contributing to community & environment – Taking actions that benefit society and the environment, such as sustainability initiatives, civic engagement, and ethical decision-making.

Contributing to Community & Environment

- Solving Problems Peacefully – Encouraging dialogue, conflict resolution, and mediation.
- Valuing Diversity – Promoting inclusion, equity, and respect for different cultures and perspectives.
- Building Relationships – Strengthening community bonds through trust and cooperation.

Non-Governmental Organizations (NGOs)

- Functions – Advocacy, humanitarian aid, environmental protection, education, and policy influence.
- Types – Developmental, humanitarian, environmental, human rights-focused NGOs.
- Approaches – Grassroots mobilization, policy advocacy, service delivery, and capacity-building.

Non-Profit Organizations (NPOs)

- Purpose – Operate for social, educational, religious, or charitable missions without profit motive.

Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR)

- Evolution – Shift from philanthropy to integrated sustainability strategies in business.
- Benefits – Enhances brand reputation, strengthens stakeholder relationships, and contributes to sustainable development.
- Types – Economic, legal, ethical, and philanthropic CSR.
- Legal Mandate – Regulations that require businesses to engage in responsible social and environmental practices.